Good Behaviour in Public Places

It is important to have good behavior in public places. Read this article to find out more about being good in public places.

Firstly, we should have good manners at school. We should not run fast in the corridor or on the stairs because we may hurt ourselves or others. In the classroom we should not talk loudly when our teacher is talking because we should respect our teachers. Besides, we should put all rubbish in the bin in order to keep the classroom clean. We should only eat in the classroom during recess and lunchtime.

Apart from that, we should wait patiently at the bus stop. We should not jump the queue or push in. On the bus, we should talk softly on our mobile phones. We should offer our seats to anyone in need. We should sound the bell early if we want to get off the bus at the next stop.

To sum up, it is important that we should have good behavior in public places. We should behave well at school or on the bus.
