From a Lazy Boy to a Hard-working Boy

Sam's mother is very hard-working and busy. She does all the housework every day. She hangs up the washing, sweeps the floor and waters the plants. However, Sam is a lazy boy. He likes to watch TV and mess up his toys everywhere. He does not do any housework.

One day, Sam's mother is sick. Sam feels sad and worried about his mother. Since no one does the housework, Sam's home becomes messy. Suddenly, Sam slips because he steps on his toy car.

At last, Sam helps to do the housework. He hangs up the washing, sweeps the floor and waters the plants. His mother feels relaxed. She says, 'Thank you, Sam. You are helpful and a good boy now.' Sam feels happy.
