Sam is a good boy

Sam and his mother are at home on Sunday. Sam's mother is hard-working. First, she sweeps the floor every day. Then, she hangs up the clothes. After that, she waters the plants. She is busy. Sam is lazy. He watches TV every day. He does not study. He is untidy. He does not tidy his toys.

Sam's mother lies in bed because she is sick. Sam feels sad. Their house is messy. It is because Sam's mother does not tidy the house.

In the end, Sam tidies the toys and hangs up the clothes. Sam's mother feels happy because the house is clean and tidy. "You are a good boy," asks Sam's mother. "Yes, I am," answers Sam. Sam also feels happy.
