Sam and his mother

Sam and his mother are at home. Sam's mother is very busy. She sweeps the floor, hangs up the washing and waters the plants. Sam is lazy. He watches TV. The room is untidy. All the toys are on the floor.

One day, Sam's mother is sick. She lies on the bed. Sam is unhappy because he worries about his mother. Sam says, 'Mummy, are you okay?'

And the room is very very messy, all the cars, paper and balls are on the floor.

One week later, Sam's mother is all better. When Sam's mother sees that mess in the living room, she gets a little bit angry.

Sam's mother teaches him how to tidy the living room. One hour later, Sam know how to tidy the living room and then Sam's mother see that Sam knows how to tidy the room. She does not feel angry anymore.
