Sally's Birthday

Today is Friday. It is Sally's birthday. Billy goes to Fun Toy Shop to buy a doll for Sally's birthday. He asks his mum, 'Can I have some money to buy a doll for my sister, Sally?' 'Sure!' said Mum. She gives him one hundred and fifty dollars.

When Billy goes to Fun Toy Shop, he sees a robot that he loves it so much. After thinking for a while, he decides to buy it for himself. Billy takes the robot to the checkout. 'How much is the robot?' asks Billy. 'It's one hundred and ten dollars, please,' replies the shopkeeper. It is very expensive but he still buys it.

On his way home, Billy realizes that he forgets to buy a doll for Sally and he has twenty dollars left. He does not have enough money to buy it.

Luckily, Billy meets his dad and Dad gives Billy some money. Billy takes the money and rushes back to the shop. Finally he buys the doll for Sally. Both Billy and Sally feel over the moon.
