Good Manners in Public Places

It is important to behave well when we are in public places. In this article you can learn how to behave well in the restaurant and at school.

First, we should have good manners in a restaurant. We shouldn't eat noisily. That's rude! We should eat quietly. We also should talk to the waiter politely. We shouldn't run around or talk when we are eating. Otherwise, you will bump into other diners and the food in your mouth will be spewed out.

We should have good manners at school too. We should pay attention when the teacher is talking. If not, you won't hear the important part of the teacher's talk. We shouldn't run in the corridors because you will bump into teachers and schoolmates. We should ask teachers questions politely. Otherwise, you will make a bad impression.

To sum up, we should behave well in different public places. After reading this article, can you behave well in different public places?
