To be Honest or Not to be

There were one brother and one sister, Xavier and Psyche, who attended a birthday party at the ABC Clubhouse on Sunday morning. Xavier and Psyche were singing and playing with their friends. Psyche was in the red dress and a big yellow hat. Xavier was in the green suit and the blue bow tie.

When they were eating the birthday cake, Psyche found that she lost her lemon candy. They looked for it for a long time but still could not find it. Psyche cried loudly.

Suddenly, the God of Candies, Sireen, appeared. 'Why are you crying loudly? May I help you?' asked Sireen. 'I lost my candy,' answered Psyche. 'No worry! I can help you to find it,' said Sireen. Then, she shook her magic stick and two packets of candy were in her hands. 'Are these yours?' asked Sireen. 'Oh yes! They are mine,' shouted Psyche happily. 'No, they aren't yours! You lost only one candy,' said Xavier angrily. 'You are such a greedy girl! I will remove your teeth!' said Sireen. 'Please don't! I will never lie again and I will promise to be an honest girl,' said Psyche with sorrow. At the end, Sireen gave all the candies to Xavier and Psyche. They were as happy as a clam.
