To be honest or not to be?

One day, Bob was having an exam at school. He did not do his revision well. He thought whether he should cheat or not. He wanted to get higher marks as he promised his mother to be a diligent student.

Bob wrote the answers on a small piece of paper and he stuck it on his water bottle. When Miss Tam walked past his seat and the paper fell on the ground. She asked Bob, 'What is this?' Bob said, 'Oh! I forgot to put the revision note into my school bag.' But the teacher knows he was cheating because a revision note would not be so small.

The next day, Miss Lam talked to Bob. 'I am disappointed with you! Why did you cheat in the exam?' She asked. Bob said, 'I wanted to get full marks ...'

The week after, Bob received his exam result. He got zero marks in the subject he cheated. Miss Tam punished Bob. He should help his classmates to clean the whiteboard for one week. He felt very sorry. He would not cheat again.
