What we should and shouldn't do in public places

It is important to have good manners in different places. We should also follow these rules too!

Firstly, we should have good manners in a public library. We should keep quiet in the library so we won't annoy others when reading books. In addition, we should say 'hi' nicely to the librarians because they will think we are polite. We shouldn't talk loudly in the library since it can disturb others. We shouldn't eat or drink in the library so we will not break the rules. It is important to be respectful in the library.

Second, we should also have good manners in a shopping mall. We should speak politely in a shopping mall since others will be polite to you too. Moreover, we should speak at a normal sound level otherwise others will think you are too loud. We shouldn't run in a shopping mall, thus we will hit someone or get hurt ourselves. It is also important to be respectful in a shopping mall.

To sum up, we should behave and follow the rules in different places.
