My Dream Job

Have you ever thought of your dream job before? What do you want to be when you grow up? As for me, I want to be a composer when I grow up because I like music very much, also listening and creating them. If I become a composer, I will create beautiful music for people to listen.

In order to become professional composers, there are more requirements than just being interested in music. First off, they need to have a lot of music knowledge so that they can write unique melodies by themselves. Secondly, composers need to be able to play at least one instrument. Then they can turn their musical ideas into life. Composers also need to be patient and creative so that they can make good products, which make more people to listen.

Although being a great composer might not be an easy task, it is still my dream job and I will try my best to become a great composer. Therefore from now on, I will practise playing my flute once a week and read more books about music. I hope I can make my dream come true someday.
