Sam the laziest boy

Once there is a boy called Sam. He lives with his mother. Sam is as lazy as a pig. He does not do any of the housework. Sam's mother is as busy as a bussing bee. She does all of the housework. She hangs up the washing, sweeps the floor and waters the plants. Sam's mother asks, 'Can you help me do some housework?' Sam shouts, 'No! I am busy watching interesting videos and cartoons.'

One day, Sam's mother is sick. Sam feels very sorry for being lazy. To make his mother feel better, Sam asks his mother, 'Do you need a glass of water?' Sam's mother replies, 'Yes, please.' I would love a glass of water! Now, the house is messy, untidy and smelly like rubbish. His dirty clothes are piled like a mountain.

At last, he is too worried, so he helps do the housework. Sam's mother says, 'Sam, I am very proud of you.' Sam whispers, 'Mom, I'm sorry for making you do all the housework, I will forgive you.' Sam happily said, 'Yay!' They live happily ever after.
