Mum Is Sick

One day, Sam and his mother are in the living room at home. Sam's mother is as busy as a bee. She hangs up the washing, sweeps the floor and waters the plants. However, Sam doesn't help at all. He watches TV for the whole day.

On the next day, Sam's mother lies in bed because she is sick. Sam is worried and he feels sorry. The house becomes messy. Sam says, 'Sorry, mum. I will help you today.' Mum replies, 'No worries.'

In the end, Sam does housework with his father. Sam does not watch TV. Sam and his parents are happy like puppies.
