Sam the Lazy Boy

Sam's family consists of three members: Sam and his parents. Sam's father is a bus driver and he works outside every day. Sam's mother is a housewife and she is always busy at housework like hanging up the clothes, sweeping the floor and watering the plants, etc.

In contrast, Sam is a lazy boy. He always watches TV and plays with toys instead of doing homework. In addition, he does not tidy up the toys. 'Can you help me to do some housework?' asks his mother. 'No, I am tired and sleepy,' answers Sam.

One day, his mother feels sick and has fever. She takes rest after medications. She cannot do any housework. Sam becomes sad and worried. The house becomes so messy and no one prepares dinner.

Sam calls his father finally. Sam replies that he will finish all the housework and prepare the dinner. Although he feels tired and the dinner does not taste good, he still feels satisfied and hopes that his mother will get well soon.
