A Day In The Park

There is a girl called Mandy. She is polite and tidy. She has piano lessons, goes to Brownies and play tennis every week.

On Sunday, it is sunny. Mandy goes to the park with her friend Winnie. They play tennis in the park. ‘The tennis ball falls into the fountain!’ says Mandy. Winnie hits the ball too hard! They feel shocked and unhappy. Then, they want to get the ball back. They have an idea.

In the end, they get the ball because they ask some people to pick it up for them from the fountain. They feel as happy as a bee.
