It is important to have good manners in public places. Good manners are very essential in life as they help us to behave in society.

First, we should have good manners in the cinema. We should put all our rubbish in the bins on our way out of the cinema. Otherwise, it will be very dirty. We should wait patiently in the queue for tickets. Otherwise, it will be very messy. We shouldn't use our phones because the light will disturb others.

In the MTR, we should offer our seats to the elderly and others in need because it can make their travel easier. We should stand behind the yellow line when we are waiting for the train. Otherwise, it will be very dangerous. We shouldn't push other passengers because it may hurt others. We shouldn't rush to the seat because it may disturb others.
