Good Manners in Different Places

It is important to behave well in different places. Let's learn about what we should do in cinemas and restaurants.

First, we should have good manners in the cinema. When we are watching films, we should switch off our mobile phones and keep quiet so that you will not disturb others and others can enjoy the films comfortably. Also, we should not wait impatiently. Although the queue for buying tickets may be a bit long, please wait for your turns patiently so we can buy our tickets in an orderly manner. After the film, we should not leave the rubbish in the cinema because we need to keep the place clean.

Second, we should behave well in the restaurant. While you are eating, be sure to chew your food with your mouth closed, otherwise you will be considered to be an impolite person. However, we should not eat noisily because others do not want to hear you munching and crunching. When we are waiting to be served, we should not play with the knives and forks because it is really rude. After the meal, make sure to keep the table clean so that the waiters can clean the table easily afterwards.

To sum up, we should have good manners in cinema and restaurant. Let's make the world a better place and be a good citizen.
