Don't be Greedy!

They did not know what to do. Then the genie had an idea. 'Eric, we can ask one of my friends who is a wizard to make a potion. Maybe that will turn you back to normal,' he suggested. Eric thought that it was his best chance of being normal again, so he agreed. They crossed a river and walked up a steep mountain for two hours. Eventually, they made it to the wizard's house. They knocked on the door and the wizard came out. She told Eric and the genie to come in.

Eric told the wizard everything that had happened to him. The wizard felt bad for him so she decided to help. The wizard made a special potion and told Eric to drink it. After he drank the potion, nothing happened! The wizard shook her head with a devastated look on her face and said, 'Even my strongest potion didn't break the spell.' Eric replied sadly, 'What can I do now?' Eric and the genie left the wizard's house very disappointed.

In the end, Eric still could not find a way to break the spell and make himself normal again. At last, he went home and learnt to always appreciate what he had.
