A Lesson for Sam

Today, Mum and Sam are at home. Mum is hanging up the washing, sweeping the floor and watering the plants. However, Sam is very lazy like a pig. He is untidy. He is watching TV but he doesn't put away the toys.

Suddenly, mum is sick, so she lies in bed. Sam is unhappy. Also, their home becomes messy because no one does the housework.

In the end, Sam helps his mother to do all the housework. Sam learns that doing housework is very tiring. Mum wakes up and sees a tidy home. She feels very glad. Sam says, "Sorry mum! I will help you with the housework in the future."
