Mandy's Lesson Learnt

Mandy is as busy a bee and hardworking like an ant. She goes to Brownies on Tuesdays. She plays tennis on Thursdays and has piano lessons on Fridays.

On a sunny Saturday morning, Mandy and her best friend Winnie go to the park near their home to play tennis. They are holding the tennis rackets and look joyful. They chat together. After a while they start to play tennis. Suddenly the tennis ball falls into the fountain because Winnie hits the ball too hard. "Oh no! What should we do?" shouts Mandy. Winnie is shocked too.

At that moment, a kind woman helps them use the net to take the tennis out. Mandy and Winnie feel lucky and they say thank you to the kind woman. "Next time, we need to play the tennis in the tennis court," says Winnie. Mandy also agrees that and they smile.
