Sam and his mother

Sam and his mother are at home. Sam's mother is busy. She is watering the plants, hanging the clothes, and sweeping the floor. But Sam is lazy. He is watching TV, and his toys are scattered everywhere.

Suddenly, his mother feels sick and lies in bed. "Are you tired, mum?" asks Sam. "Yes, I am," she replies. Sam feels worried because the house is messy.

So Sam starts helping mum. He puts away his toys and sweeps the floor. His mother smiles and says, "Thank you, Sam. I'm proud of you." In the end, both of them feel happy and satisfied.
