Sally's birthday

Today is the birthday of Billy's sister, Sally. He wants to buy a birthday gift for her. He goes to a toy shop, which is on the first floor of the Joyful Shopping Centre.

Billy sees a cool robot in the toy shop and loves it very much. He decides to buy the robot, and it costs one hundred and ten dollars. On the way home, he suddenly stops and says, "Oh no! I was supposed to buy a doll for Sally." He realizes that he completely forgot to buy a doll for his sister.

In the end, he decides to give the robot to his sister as her birthday gift anyway. It turns out Billy's sister loves the robot very much, and they play with it together. They feel as happy as queens and have a wonderful birthday celebration.
