Mum is sick

Today is Sunday. Sam and his mother stay at home. Sam's mother is busy as a bee because she is hanging up the clothes, sweeping the floor and watering the plants. However, Sam is as lazy as a pig. He doesn't tidy the toys. He lies on the sofa and watches TV for a whole day.

In the afternoon, Sam sees his mother lying on the bed because she is sick. "Mum, are you okay?" asks Sam. "I need to take a break," answers his mother. Sam feels worried. Sam's home is messy.

Sam decides to help her mother. He cleans up the toys, hangs up the clothes and finishes the other housework. At night, Sam feels tired. His mother is as happy as a king, so she recovers immediately after taking a good rest.
