A Thrilling Sunday

Today, Mandy meets her friend, Winnie. 'What do you do on Sundays?' asks Winnie. Mandy answers, 'I play tennis every Sunday.' Winnie asks, 'Can I go with you this Sunday?' Then Mandy says, 'Sure! Let's play tennis together.'

On Sunday, Mandy and Winnie go to the park. It is a sunny day. So they play tennis in the park. Suddenly, Mandy's tennis ball falls into the water because she hits the ball too hard. They feel worried.

While they are thinking about how to get the ball, a park keeper passes by and says, 'Let me help you.' After that, he lends a net to Winnie and Mandy. They use the net to get the ball. Finally, they feel happy about the solution.

Yumi did a wonderful job structuring this story! Aside from the missing commas before the dialogue, her spelling and sentence structures are very strong for her level.
