My Diary

Sunday 3rd May, 2026

Rainy

Today was the happiest day of my life. When I woke up, it was eight o'clock and I ate my breakfast.

In the morning, I finished my breakfast and rested a few minutes at the hotel. Then I swam in the swimming pool. A few minutes later, I changed my clothes into my swimming suit and jumped into the water. But the water was cold! So I tried to swim in the pool. Soon, I didn't feel cold. Then, my dad jumped into the water. The water splashed on my face. When my dad saw it, he laughed. We swam together because we wanted to be fit. After swimming, we took a shower and then we went to the shopping mall.

In the afternoon, my dad drove to the shopping mall to buy some food. We went to the third floor. Suddenly, I could not see my sister Lucy. I looked around and found her. She wanted to play with the toy car. I asked my dad if we could play with the car. My dad said, “OK, I will pay for it.” We sat in the car, and I drove the car because Lucy was too small. When it started, Lucy was very happy and she looked around. It was very big. Then, I saw a traffic light. When I saw it was red, I stopped my car. When I saw it was green, I kept driving my car. When it was almost over, my sister cried. I did not know why, but my mum picked her up and then she stopped crying.

In the evening, it was too late so we went home. We sat on the train with my family.

It was a wonderful day. I felt happy.
