An Interesting Hiking

Last Sunday, Mary and Tom were bored at home, so they decided to go to Sai Kung Country Park to go hiking.

After an hour of hiking, they got lost. Then they asked a hiker, “How far is the bus stop from here?” The hiker replied, “It’s a long way. It’s ten kilometres. You can take a bus to get there. It is inconvenient.”

After a while, they got to the bus stop. There were a lot of people there. Mary wanted to travel by taxi because it was more convenient. Tom also wanted to travel by taxi because it was more comfortable and faster, but it was more expensive. They thought for a while, and then the bus arrived. Since they had walked a long way to get there, they took the bus instead.

In the end, they took the bus directly back home. They felt tired but happy, and they learnt to plan the entire trip before going.
