My role model

I believe most people in the world have a role model. My role model is Cristiano Ronaldo and I guess a lot of people know him. He is a professional football player and now he is 41 years old. He is famous because of his super football talents. I admire him because of his wonderful football talents but also his perseverance.

His job is a professional football player. He always goes training earlier than others. He has already been a professional football player for 24 years.

He is super talented in playing football and he always maintains good performances in all matches. He has received lots of prestigious awards like "The golden boots", "UCL" and Ballond'Or in 2008, 2013, 2014, 2016 and 2017. He has great football skills, such as making powerful shots and running at speeds of up to 34 km per hour.

He never gives up and he respects others. The first special thing he did is scoring an amazing goal into the 'top bin' in his first ever match. He is also very cheerful as he always smiles with his fans when taking photos. He is also very kind-hearted, positive and perseverant.

All in all, he has taught me that I should be kind, cheerful, perseverant and try my best to achieve my dreams.
