Be More Shark-Friendly

I am a friendly shark, and I am writing because my species is becoming rarer and rarer due to harmful human activities. I want to share our struggles and ask for your help.

One of the biggest problems we face is shark hunting. Humans hunt sharks to make royal dishes such as shark fin soup. Our fins are cut off while we are still alive, leaving us unable to swim properly. In the end, we drown. Please stop buying shark fins and shark fin soup so this cruel practice can end.

Another problem is pollution. Humans throw waste into the sea, and some of us get strangled by it and die. My brother swam too close to toxic waste and was poisoned. I hope you can reduce waste and recycle more, such as aluminum cans and plastic bottles, to keep our oceans clean.

Moreover, humans overfish, which makes our prey fewer and fewer. As a result, we often suffer from hunger. To prevent this, I suggest buying common species of seafood rather than rare ones, so the balance of nature can be protected.

Please help us! Sharks will become extinct unless you take action. If you do not want us to disappear, please share our message with others. Even a small action can make a big difference. Do this for us—thank you.
